Question: "What was the practice of casting lots?"

Answer: The practice of casting lots is mentioned 70 times in the Old Testament and seven times in the New Testament. In spite of the many references to casting lots in the Old Testament, nothing is known about the actual lots themselves. They could have been sticks of various lengths, flat stones like coins, or some kind of dice; but their exact nature is unknown. The closest modern practice to casting lots is likely flipping a coin.

Let's Look at Acts Chapter Two

When the day of Pentecost arrived, they were all together in one place. Acts 2:1

What is the day of Pentecost?

Pentecost is a Jewish feast to celebrate the beginning of the wheat harvest.

Pentecost took place seven weeks after Passover. Pentecost means “the fiftieth day”.

Then this happened!

Acts 2:2

And suddenly there came from heaven a sound like a mighty rushing wind, and it filled the entire house where they were sitting.

And this!

Acts 2:3 They saw what seemed to be tongues of fire that separated and came to rest on each of them.

All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit and started speaking in other languages.
